What do we share in common?

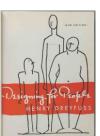

People. Design. Change

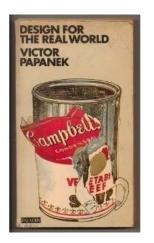

Human-centered design could change our city and business landscape

Let's know more about the design trends!

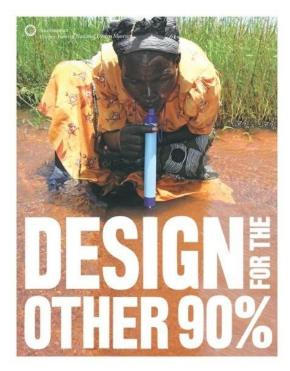

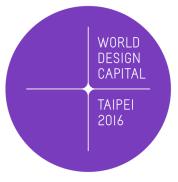

Where will design go?

- From business focus to social impact
- From forms/ functions to business models/culture change
- From corporate to government
- From closed loop to open design
- From designers to everyone, to think like a designer!

A bowl of beef noodles is a fine way to dive into Taiwan's eating scene.

The culinary philosophy in Taiwan is simple.

Eat often and eat well.

Small eats -- but lots of them -- are the big thing here.

The island's food is a mash-up of the cuisine of the Min Nan, Teochew and Hokkien Chinese communities, along with Japanese cooking.
