ECF gratefully acknowledges financial support from the European Commission.

About ECF

With over 70 members across nearly 40 countries, the European Cyclists’ Federation (ECF) unites cyclists’ associations from across the globe, giving them a voice on the international level. Our aim is to get more people cycling more often by influencing policy in favour of cycling within political, economic, and social institutions.

Contact

Holger Haubold
European Cyclists’ Federation
Rue Franklin 28,
B-1000 Brussels
+32 2 80 85 871
s4c@ecf.com
www.ecf.com/scientists-for-cycling

Scientists for cycling

SCIENTISTS FOR CYCLING BRAINS MOVE ON BIKES
Mission Statement

Scientists for Cycling is a global network of academics and individuals actively engaged in applied research, teaching and dissemination from all disciplines interested in cycling or cycling-related topics. The group works to exchange their knowledge and research in order to improve cycling.

Main aims of the network

- Build a strong academic community doing research on
- Bridge the gap between the research on cycling issues, cycling advocates and decision makers
- Disseminate the latest academic publications on cycling
- Assist in developing the Velo-city conference program
- Build up a more research based approach to cycling advocacy and policy

Membership benefits

- Opportunities to present publications through ECF media channels
- Electronic newsletter
- Annual ECF network event
- Exclusive access to the S4C intranet for direct exchange between network members

Becoming a member

In order to become a member, you just have to complete the application form at ecf.com/scientists-for-cycling or contact ECF for more information.

Annual Membership fee

Professionals: € 80;
Students: € 40